

Beovu

The Beovu lawsuits claim the manufacturer of Beovu failed to adequately warn patients and doctors that use of the drug could result in vision loss and blindness.

Our law firm is accepting clients who received Beovu injections and have been diagnosed with retinal vasculitis, retinal artery occlusion, intraocular inflammation, or other vision problems.

The primary legal issue is whether drug manufacturer Novartis failed to adequately warn doctors and patients about the potential vision-related side effects caused by Beovu injections.
