

Hernia Mesh

The hernia mesh lawsuits claim the medical devices are defectively designed and the manufacturers have failed to properly warn medical providers of the serious adverse complications and device failures.

Our law firm is accepting clients who received a hernia mesh and have experienced additional surgeries, infections, bowel obstruction, organ damage, and/or chronic pain.

Many hernia mesh devices use materials that shrink, contract, harden, migrate, or fail - causing nerve damage, bowel damage, and cause the need for further surgery.

Criteria

- Initial mesh implant 2010 or later
- Revision or scheduled revision
